

Philip Montalban

Nicaragua's Premiere Reggae Singer/Songwriter

An original Nicaraguan Reggae Superstar, Philip Montalban has toured the world promoting his Nicaraguan Roots and Afro-Latino Identity. - CompulsiveTraveler.tv

General
Admission
Tickets:
$15

Hopkins
Staff: $12

All Students
with ID:
$7

The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, MD
Mattin Center, 33rd & Charles, Ross Jones Bldg. Rm. 101

October 17, 2009 7:45pm

Philip Montalban, from Bluefields on the Caribbean Coast of Nicaragua, will perform his own music as well as popular reggae hits celebrating Afro-Caribbean culture and revolutionary consciousness in English, Spanish and Miskito.

Sponsored by: Nicaragua Network and Casa Baltimore/Limay
The Johns Hopkins University Center for Africana Studies
The Johns Hopkins University Program for Latin American Studies